

Free Concert!

Please join us for a FREE performance of West Indian music featuring the Jason Roseman and Tropical Gems

WHEN: Thursday, August 20th 6:30-7:15 PM

WHERE: National Park Visitor Center Garden

Jason Roseman and Tropical Gems

Born on the beautiful twin island republic of Trinidad and Tobago, Jason Roseman, founder of Steelpan Instruments Technology, is a second generation steelpan tuner. He credits much of his success to his father, Joseph Roseman, who introduced and nurtured Jason's deep love and respect for the steelpan instrument. Jason started performing on steelpans at age eight and has traveled extensively, sharing the indigenous art form of his beloved country with the rest of the world. He also has taught steelpans at secondary schools in his native Trinidad and in England. As a performer, Jason has graced the stage with the Ray Kennedy Entertainers, Cassav, and Celia Cruz, to name a few. Living in the United States since 1997, he continues to promote his steelpan art form every opportunity he gets. Tropical Gems consists of steel drums (steelpan), keyboard, acoustic/electric guitar, acoustic/electric bass, acoustic drummer, and assorted percussion instruments.